

Dear Future NC!

In 2026, the United States of America turns 250 years old! As we remember the past, historians piece together clues to figure out what life was like before our time. Archives store historical documents for future research. If you had to write a letter to future historians about North Carolina during your lifetime, what would you make sure is important for them to know?

Dear Future NC...

My name is _____ and I am ____ years old. The year is _____ and I live in _____, North Carolina! One of my favorite things about North Carolina is _____

I think our state is beautiful because _____

Our state bird is the _____ and our state flower is the
_____. Are they still the same in your time?

For fun, I like to _____
_____. I wonder if you still do any of the same fun things that I do today?

I hope in the future, North Carolina _____

If I could send you one thing from my state today, it would be _____
